

9/11 Commemorated

by Bill Tobin 9/11/11 (The Holliston Reporter)

The anniversary of September 11, 2001 was recalled at a non-denominational service at the Congregational Church and town green.

The flag at Town Hall was at half mast to honor the victims of 9/11. Prayers, special music and the lighting of memorial candles commemorated the attacks on September 11, 2011. The service began with a moving remembrance called Ten Seconds written by Lt. Tom Kelley, a fireman from the Providence Fire Department.

The bell choir under the direction of Karen McCue commemorated the attack with sombre peaceful music.

Reverend Bonnie Steinroeder noted that we all recall where we were and our reactions to the news of that fateful day ten years ago this day. And that is so true.

After a moving rendition of Taps, candles were lit and carried outside to the green...

...for a short silent vigil.
September 11, 2001 was a day that changed the lives of all Americans.
